LOS ANGELES CITY COLLEGE HOSTS 2nd ANNUAL LAUSD LOCAL DISTRICT CENTRAL ACADEMIC FESTIVAL

LOS ANGELES – (March 29, 2019) Los Angeles City College (LACC) will host the 2nd annual Los Angeles United School District (LAUSD) Local District Central Academic Festival on Saturday, April 6 from 8 am to 12:30 pm on the LACC campus.

Over 1,500 LAUSD Local District Central students, parents, teachers and staff as well as members from the LACC community will attend the event.

“We are extremely proud to be hosting this extraordinary event which will showcase the wide variety of programs offered at Local District Central LAUSD elementary, middle and high schools,” said Carol Kozeracki, LACC Dean of Academic Affairs.

Some of the activities will include:

- 250 elementary school vocalists from 10 schools performing in “The Big Sing” in LACC’s North Gym
- STEM Expo with 330 students from various LAUSD Local District Central schools displaying STEM projects including robotics, radio controlled car racing and clean air displays
- Mariachi ensembles, orchestras, bands and dancers
- Secondary student presentations of poetry, monologue, narrative, speech and dramatic interpretations

- Parent workshops and seminars in LAUSD dual language programs, family leadership, social and emotional health, art therapy, ecology and more

The event is open and free for all students, family members and staff of LAUSD Local District Central schools.

Parking is free and available at LACC's Lot 4 on N. Heliotrope Drive. Los Angeles City College is located at 855 North Vermont Avenue.
